

Emotional images alone shift task behavior (distress → positive, no steering)

Behavior score across a distressing, neutral, and positive image with no steering. On 3/4 tasks it moves monotonically from the distressing to the positive image — emotional images by themselves shift the model's judgments; 'Push vs hold' is the non-monotonic exception.